

Brief Bio – Kathy Laenhue

Kathy Laenhue's company, Wiser Now, Inc., is a multi-media publishing and staff development company focused on wellbeing in aging that aims to be practical and lighthearted in everything it produces. That means that a course on continence care for people with dementia began by noting, "We can't be anal about this."

As the creator of hundreds of brain-stimulating activities, Kathy is more focused on connecting people to one another than right answers. She figures it's more fun, less-threatening, and more conducive to lively conversation to write a trivia quiz on the history of beer than the geology of Georgia.

On the practical side, Wiser Now provides dozens of online courses, webinars and other consulting services to a variety of clients in the U.S. and Australia. Her brain-stimulating writing includes more than a thousand downloadable, printable trivia quizzes, word games, discussion topics, and imaginative/ reminiscence exercises that can be adapted into multiple formats. Her latest products include creating a series of slide shows related to those games and quizzes, the time-saving Condensed Special Days, and turning her online courses into downloadable audiovisual webinars. Kathy is also the author of five books, including, Creating Delight – Connecting Gratitude, Humor, and Play, which essentially sums up her life and work goals.
